1. On 17 December 1953, the barracks installation on the southeast side of Berliner Strasse in Frenzlau seemed to be occupied to capacity. All quarters were fully lighted at dusk. There was intensive traffic of personnel to the former NCO settlement. The other officers mostly were senior lieutenants and lieutenants who also wore red-bordered black epaulets with tank insignia. From 2 to 3 p.m. on 17 December, eight 6-wheel M-3 armored personnel carriers and 8 x 76.2-mm AT guns were parked in the installation. About 35 soldiers, most of them recruits, trained in the barracks yard while about 30 other soldiers practiced mounting and relieving the guard. About 140 soldiers made practice marches.

2. On 17 December, the barracks installation on the north-west side of Berliner Strasse was occupied by about 1,200 troops who wore red-bordered black epaulets with tank insignia. Six turrets of JS tanks were seen in the installation. Soldiers worked at the turrets.
